Reid & Russell Hill Eletoral Rolls 1935

Above: The results of a flood around 1916. It destroyed the low bridge over the Molonglo River at Lennox Crossing. The big flood of 1922 destroyed the railway crossing over the river at the Causeway. The structures were not replaced and the planned railway station at Civic never came about. The rail line went in front of Russell Hill, in front of the War Memorial and behind St John the Baptist Church at Reid. Sections of the rail line and platform remained in situ well into the 1950s.

Above: Clarrie Robertson. He lived at Russell Hill with his family before moving to Westlake. This photograph was probably taken on the Russell Hill Tennis Court.
